Try these five cute designs from prem baby to toddler with a pretty lazy daisy stitch

Dear readers...

This month we extend a very warm welcome back into the machine knitting fold to Alice Wilmschurst. Readers of her Knitting Machine Journal and Passap Knitting Machine Journal will know how her life changed dramatically when she lost her husband Bert almost a decade ago. I sent her some tickets for the Chepstow Show at the beginning of June and after we'd chatted for a while, I was delighted that she agreed to join the MKM team, especially to look after all our Passap and Pfaff knitters. She's never forgotten all her old readers and I know she'd be thrilled if some of them would get in touch with her again. I hope that many of you will feel able to send in contributions to her, much as you did in the past. It'll take a while for her to get back into her stride and 'Alice's Corner' can grow in the coming months.

We've had a bumper postbag for Dear Anne this month and letters are still coming in about an on-line club. The general consensus seems to be that there's already enough out there for knitters who like to use their computer in this way. The idea is not shelved, just put on the back burner for a while. Through MKM, I've always tried to keep the craft going and never set up in competition. So, we'll let the GMK and other groups keep you well supported for the time being.

One thing I've had to do is ask Jo Newton to come up with a 24-stitch version of Heidi Cleary's Cute Kids motif on Page 22 of the July issue. The phone calls started almost immediately from readers who didn't want to do an intarsia pattern, but would love to knit it as a single motif. Once Jo is back from holiday, she'll start on it as soon as she can. It's always reassuring when I have your feedback - good or not so good. I've always said that constructive criticism helps me get the contents of the magazine right for you all.

On the subject of holidays, I'm taking a short weekend break at the beginning of August to go down and see Joan Lafferty in Bude. We plan to look over the cards received for the little competition we set to mark a couple of dates in our lives and I'll bring you the winners in the October issue. Don't forget that July is a 'five week' month, so you'll have to wait a bit longer for your September issue. Until then, happy knitting.

Second skin

A young designer from Sunderland has created a luxurious collection of women's wear inspired by the colours, tones and textures of skin. Kingston University student Nicole Bradshaw used leather, crêpe silks, shimmering Lurex and chunky mohair knits in her Graduate Fashion Week range. "My collection is aimed at the professional woman", Nicole said. "There's an emphasis on quality and luxury. I want people to see my clothes as an investment, like a second skin." With a colour palette influenced by the skin of characters in paintings by Francis Bacon and Egon Schiele, Nicole has incorporated navy, black, orange and purple into her pieces as well as the more understated beige and pink.

The 22-year-old designer's high-end evening wear range includes a delicate over-sized jumper made from pale pink and beige mohair with flashes of black and orange. In a sharp reference to plastic surgery and the manipulation of skin Nicole has used silicone to fashion a top, skirt and three-quarter-length coat. One of her most striking garments is a full length evening dress based on a fingerprint, with ribs of glistening, soft-pink Lurex knit swirling to create an elegant semi-opaque, sleeveless garment. Nicole has some fabulous idea and we're sure she's a bright future ahead.

HOW TO MAKE FRIENDSHIP BRACELETS

by Veronique Follet

Previously published as Friendship Bracelets 978-0-85532-80-3, this re-issue reminds us that friendship is universal and crosses continents, generations and all other barriers. Friendship bracelets are for young and old; teenagers and grandparents; from friend to friend or from boy to girl. You don't need any weaving equipment to make these vibrant Central and South American bracelets. Just learn two basic knots, use a safety pin to keep your work taut and then knot colourful cotton threads into a host of different patterns. This book shows row-by-row how to make 22 different designs in coloured easy-to-follow diagrams.

Hall Green

Hello Anne

I live in Shirley, Solihull and I'm in the process of building a small website to advertise our machine knitting club in Hall Green, Birmingham. I wonder if you'd be happy to spread the word. The link is www.knitcraftallgreen.co.uk and if anyone would like more information then please call me on 0121-744 7390. Many thanks for your help and best wishes, Mandy Gordon by e-mail

Calling Kidderminster

Dear Anne

Through the magazine please would you ask if there are any active knitting clubs in or near Kidderminster? I'd love to join a regular group, but don't know of any near by.

Here's hoping, Mrs P Dodds

Great value

It's time to remind you that Susan Guagliumi is visiting from America. Author of Hand Manipulated Stitches and the new book More Hand Manipulated Stitches, Susan's ideal machines are mid gauge, chunky or even the plastic bed machine. She exploits these heavier machines, but all the techniques are possible on standard gauge models. There's a rare opportunity to attend her only hand's-on workshop in this country on this trip, for an amazing £180. Susan's favourite edgings - Chinese Knots, Stegosaurus Cables, Twisted Stitches and Mosaics are just some of the unusual techniques you'll discover.

Don't miss this unique hand's-on experience from Monday 20th to Friday 24th September, 10.00 am to 4.00 pm. It's another first for Metropolitan and please call Carol on 01270-628414 for availability.

EXCLUSIVE

We have two exciting new patterns from Susan, incorporating some of her amazing techniques. The first will be published in our September issue, so do look out for it next month.

Learn to knit

Hi Anne

I'm writing to let you know that we're putting up posters locally saying 'Want to learn machine knitting? Come to our knitting club'. We meet every month on the 3rd Monday at 7.30 pm. We have talks and demonstrations plus chat with tea and biscuits. Home tuition on your own machine is available. We're a lively club of mixed ages and we have club outings to knitting shows, competitions and we knit for various charities. We all enjoy machine knitting. If any readers live in or near Deal in Kent and would like to join in the fun, please call Carol on 01304-820378 or Jean on 01304-361181 for more information.

Thanks Anne, Jean Pugh by e-mail

Attention all Club Secretaries! Why not treat yourselves to a day out at one of these great venues? Whether it's a trip to stock up on yarn or a day out at a show, there are bargains to be had and plenty to be learned, so don't put it off any longer - call up today

Back again

Hi Anne

I'm interested in Linda Hall's suggestion of an on-line club. I'm just coming back to knitting, after a long break and moving house. (By the way, I'm 71.) I use a Silver Reed 830 and 840, though I've hardly used the fine knitter. I also have my original machine, a Knitmaster 323. I have DesignaKnit but it's so long since I used it I'll have to learn it from the beginning again. I don't know any machine knitters in my local area and don't particularly want to be tied to a regular club meeting time, so an on-line club sounds like a very good idea. I hope there are other people interested. Best wishes, Ann Clarke by e-mail

Plymouth Ho!

Hi Anne, just a quick note to confirm that I think the idea of an on-line club is just what we need. The Plymouth Club was born and died within the year, mostly because it seemed members wanted someone else to do all the work! I was given some yarn - nearly 100 cones. The problem was getting it into the house without my husband seeing! I found the best way was to leave it in the car and wait until he was out and then gradually get it into my knitting room, that's out of bounds to him. Most of it landed up under the spare bed, which is now getting nearer and nearer to the ceiling. Try as I might, a large box just wouldn't fit so it got left out. If questioned I will just say that it's the yarn that was given to me - I won't mention the rest of it on the book case and in bags and boxes in my room! Why is it that now I have all this yarn everyone is asking me to sew for them? Can't they do as they've been doing for the last few months and that's to ask for jackets, jumpers and so on? I'm actually hoping for a wet summer, so I can use some of the yarn. If it's fine then I have to be out in the garden! Best wishes, Pat Gregory by e-mail

Small is good

Hi Anne

I read with interest about starting up an on-line knitting club and I would be interested in joining. I run a little knitting club and it's all that's left of a big one, which used to be in a village a few miles away. Our chairwoman moved away and the club closed down. However, I decided to start it up again in my village. There are only seven of us from the original group and we get together every month. I think some of them might be interested in the on-line idea so I look forward to hearing more about it. Best wishes, Daphne Jones by e-mail

Closed down

Dear Anne

I live near Bishop Auckland where our machine knitting club closed a long time ago. I'd be very interested in joining an on-line club. It would be great way of keeping in touch with other knitters, so please keep me informed of progress.

Kind regards, Charmian Rawlings by e-mail

All change

Viv Pittard has written to tell us that she's stepping down from running the Drayton MKC. She's quite reluctant to do it, but feels the club would benefit from someone else with other ideas. Viv tells us the club is fortunate to have two younger members with a fresh outlook. Many will know Janet Dineen from the GMK and she has lots of ideas and contacts in the knitting world. Christine Linfield is another experienced knitter and the two of them are taking over. As Viv says, both are a lot younger and she can still do her bit to help, as she'd hate to see a good club go the way of so many and fold.

The club venue is still St Andrew's Church Hall, Farlington and meetings are held on the second Monday of the month from 2.00 to 4.00 pm. A warm welcome is always extended to new faces and numbers are still buoyant at 30 paid up members. We're sure Viv won't mind if we pass on her phone number and it's 02392-660401 or call June Coombes on 02392-463188 for more information. May we also thank Viv for all her help and contributions to MKM over the years. She's a lovely lady and it's always a pleasure to hear from her. Best wishes for the future Viv, from all of us.

Joyce Monks is founder of the highly successful Warrington Machine Knitting Club and she's passing on her wealth of knowledge

PLAN AHEAD

Towards the end of your first year running the club, it's time to think about the coming twelve months. Try to list topics you've not covered so far and this is where your own notes come in very handy. (I mentioned this earlier in the series.) Try also to add things that you personally would find interesting - either for discussion or demonstration. Read your instruction manual completely and I'm sure you'll find lots of stitches or methods you've never tried, simply because you haven't had the time.

SHARE IDEAS

When I demonstrate something from the instruction manual or MKM, there's usually someone who has never managed it. If you demonstrate this at club night, you're killing two birds with one stone by showing something new and saving members the time spent trying it out at home. Think about it and I'm sure you'll find it's a useful addition to club meetings. Try an evening sharing ideas on how to do specific things. I usually tell members at the previous meeting that I'd like them to share with everyone the ways they use to shape raglan sleeves, round necks or even 'V' necks. There are different ways of forming cable patterns, collars and pockets as well as making fancy ribs. For those with a ribber, there are some very good and easy ways of making unusual hems.

Invite members to bring along their favourite edging and you'll be surprised how many different ways there are without having to rely on the good old crochet hook. We can also knit beautiful braids on single and double-bed machines and these can be very effective on plain garments. Trying to get members to share their ideas also helps them get to know one another better. I'm sure if you try an evening like this - or something very simple such as shaping raglans, you'll find it very interesting for everyone.

Another source of ideas is the hints and tips you find dotted about magazines. (I really don't know where we'd be without MKM!) If it seems a good idea to you, then demonstrate it at the next meeting. You'll probably find that quite a few members will also have read the hint, but may have difficulty translating the written word and be pleased to see a demonstration. It's often easier to understand a technique if you're shown how to do it on the machine, rather than trying to work it out at home.

HELPING HAND

Here's something you can do to help the new knitter. Always have some good quality 4-ply acrylic yarn for demonstrating. (Pure wool is even better, because you can unravel and steam it and then use it again.) Companies such as Uppingham Yarns will also supply shade cards to show the good colour range.

When I started, I wrote to a number of companies to tell them I was running a machine knitting club in the Warrington area. I asked if I could purchase yarn in quantities of ten cones and over to obtain some discount. You'll be surprised at the number who will do this for knitting clubs. Do ask for some shade cards to distribute to club members, if possible. A word of warning - it's absolutely essential to take payment with each order and to send the order off in time for the yarn to arrive for the next meeting. This way you can be assured of a good quality yarn at a relatively cheap price.

On the same lines, did you know that Anne sends out bulk orders of Machine Knitting Monthly at discount prices for clubs? The magazines can either be sent in a parcel to one address for distribution at club meetings or to individual members, but this does cost a little more. However, it's still cheaper than shop prices and a worthwhile incentive to members. To find out more, give Anne a ring and she'll talk it through with you. More ideas to introduce into your club nights will be included in the next Club Diary so until then, happy knitting. Joyce ■

NAAMA RIETTI

Dreadlocks adorned the catwalk at Graduate Fashion Week as a collection inspired by ornate plaits, knots and twists was unveiled by a Kingston University designer

Jerusalem-born Naama Rietti loved the hair art-form so much that, not only did she persuade her beau Morris Marah to re-style his hair, she then based her latest collection on his new locks. The 25-year-old designer embellished the garments in her women's knitwear range with intricate weaves inspired by the eye-catching hair coils.

"I'm intrigued by the way people use their hair to express their creativity," Naama said. "I wanted to try and recreate the elaborate patterns and woven loops of dreadlocks on the dresses, tops and head-pieces in my Graduate Fashion Week collection."

It took Naama from Stratford-upon-Avon over two weeks to make her sculptured hats and the complicated collar on her knitted dress, using silk yarns as fine as hair. With her mum's help she twisted and pulled the fine fibres, in a process similar to forming dreadlocks, to create the long tassels that adorn her jackets and tops.

The young designer who moved to England from Israel with her family when she was six is a big believer in hand crafts and was keen to emulate organic nature of dreadlocks in her garments. "I started plaiting and weaving the yarns very freely", she explained. "I wanted to allow the garments to form and grow." ■

Masterclass

Dear Anne

First please let me congratulate you on over 24 years of successful editing MKM. It's a time to celebrate and be proud of your achievements for sure. Then let me thank you for your reminder and yes, please renew my subscription for further 14 issues. I would not want to miss a single copy. After quite a limited time of machine knitting (I started three and a half years ago) I am always keen to learn new (to me!) techniques and all kinds of 'how-to', so my main interest is in these features. A special treat are the contributions of Bill King. Sometimes, I must admit I would have wished to have more detailed advice on how to achieve this and that. Sometimes I just have to capitulate, consoling myself that the title reads: Masterclass and well, yes, whether I like it or not I'm far from being a master.

I am enclosing pictures of the one thing I managed and in fact could 'play with', as Bill says and the result was quite pleasing. As I have been rather slim for the major time of my life, my self image seemingly got stuck in those times and still have a tendency to make my knits a nice size 10 and not the 12 or even 14 I really need. I had to think of something to cover the added surface of myself. I liked the wavy rim and simply used the bottom border as side borders on the green jacket. The wine and pink is similar, but two colours are in baby alpaca. Maybe MKM readers might be interested in these models, done with DesignaKnit 7 on my Brother KH 965.

MACHINE MAINTENANCE

Dear Anne

Having read many of the letters posted on your website, I can't help noticing how many new and returning knitters there are who need help to get their machines in good working order. There is another website (howtomendit.com) where there are many requests for help because people do not know about checking and replacing the sponge bar, cleaning and oiling their machine, aligning the ribber and so on. Would it be possible to have an article which answers some of these problems and covers the basics, enabling these readers to gain confidence in the maintenance of their machines then being able to knit with them? I know you have covered such things in the past but there seems to be more interest in machine knitting again now and there are no local shops for people to go to for help and advice.

Kind regards to you and your team,
Sue Pritchard by e-mail

THREAD LACE

Dear Anne

Due to family commitments I was unable to go to Bournemouth this year where I usually stock up with yarns - as if I don't have enough already! So I started to gather together all my half used Fine Crêpe cones and have made some waistcoats and gilets using the plating feeder on the ribber carriage. I have a Brother 965 machine and, using two strands of the same colour in the main feeder and one strand of Silky in the same or similar colour in the plating feeder on the ribber carriage, I used a thread lace pattern and was very pleased with the results.

Either side can be used as the right side and because it's knitted in full needle rib, the fabric doesn't curl and of course you can steam press Fine Crêpe and Silky. Using thread lace it doesn't really matter if the dyes are different as long as the colours are the same as it doesn't notice. Pushing in the two buttons for thread lace on the ribber carriage can be tricky so I used the spanner that came with the ribber to push them in.

Kind regards, Brenda Howe by e-mail

SUMMER FRUITS

Dear Anne

In the June 2010 magazine the Summer Fruits pattern took my fancy. I realized after reading your letter on Page five that the garter bar was the way to go. I decided to do a sample first to become fully conversant with the pattern before making my garment.

Following the pattern I cast on in WY yarn and finished with the nylon cord row. I then followed the instructions using the latch tool. First thing I struck was that my stitches were too tight to get onto my garter bar, so I started again making my latch tooling stitches larger. This time I was able to turn the knitting on the garter bar. I finished my sample as per instructions.

After taking off my WY, I noticed my cast on edge was not very neat but it did certainly sit flat. (Some knitters can do very neat tooling but not me this time.) How old was the pattern and had it been developed from a hand pattern? If this was the case I felt a wind on cast on should do the job. So, following the pattern I cast on in WY and MT and knitted several rows finishing with a nylon cord row. Using MY and MT, I then did a wound on cast on the whole row. Next I added as many weights as I could and knitted one row at MT. I then took off the

Catching up

Dear Anne

I am sorry I haven't written before to thank you for including the photo of the two jumpers I made with the snowman pattern from Jo Newton. We've had a very worrying time since the beginning of the year with family health problems. Consequently I haven't had any time for knitting these last few months and decided to have my old machine serviced. As it would have cost so much to send it away, I decided to try someone who advertises in MKM. Richard Jones lives in the Evesham area and comes out to service. I can thoroughly recommend him and he is very reasonable, too. I watched him at work and, by doing the service here I could see what was being done. There's no getting away from it, he is very professional and I now own a lovely machine that's as good as new.

I felt that as he had made such a good job that you would like to know that his advert is very worthwhile. He said he has quite a lot of work and has had people ring him from too far away for him to be able to travel. I was really surprised at the goings on inside the machine, as well as all the dust and dirt that had accumulated over the years - even though I've kept it covered when not in use. I hope to start knitting again soon when my husband is a bit better. We're two old crocks together at the moment with my arthritis as well. I've sent you a photo of some of the toys and things I gave to the hospice for their sale in May. I would have got a lot more done if things had been different. I still enjoy reading the magazine and have quite a few ideas ready for later on. Bye for now, June Messenger by e-mail weights to turn the knitting using the garter bar. I then continued with the eight row pattern using the garter bar to turn the work.

When I had finished my sample and taken off my WY, I found I had a very neat flat cast on edge, making a very nice knitted sample of the pattern. So for those of you whose tooling is not very neat, do try the wind on cast on method.

Best wishes, Mary Stanton by e-mail you how!

Bridging is a technique that allows you to take control of each and every needle on the bed of your machine to change stitch size, add extra rows or access the free yarn anywhere in a row. The single-most important method for working hand-manipulated stitches on a machine, bridging is the key to creating incredible textures. The first half of this book is divided into six chapters that each address a specific use of bridging. The second half offers nine patterns that put bridging to practical use.

Knitting Buddies

FREE SERVICE

A number of readers have volunteered to give help and advice to beginners or those returning to machine knitting after a long break. If travelling distances are not too great, they may even sit with you whilst you develop some basic knitting skills. Please keep in mind that our Knitting Buddies are not trained professionals, so please don't take advantage of their generosity by overloading them with your queries. Remember also not to ask for or expect the impossible!

This is a free service to our readers, but for it to continue please understand that 'phoning one of Buddies at 10.00 pm for an hour-long chat is not reasonable. Do keep your calls short and if you need comprehensive advice, simply make arrangements to call back at a time that's convenient. For this service to work, do remember that co-operation is essential.

Dream on!

Dorothy Russell returns to our pages with a seasonal look at her local Ipswich Waterfront

Well, the song says: "Busy doing nothing, working the whole day through; trying to find lots of things not to do". Dream on! It's been another busy month and I'm still trying to fathom out how I ever had time to go to work before retirement! I'd envisaged waking each morning with a good 16 hours before me to do exactly as I wished. I imagined I'd sip my morning tea with the only worry to face me being to contemplate how to fill those hours. I'd be able to do everything that had excited my imagination whilst raising children, household management and being general factotum.

A WARNING!

I feel like writing a warning to all who dream of that time warp called retirement. I've woken up, smelt the coffee and trust me, it's a figment of the imagination. Everyone should be aware of how quickly the years pass by. That's another anomaly - how can 365 days get shorter and shorter? More logical contemplation brings about the realisation and acceptance that it takes me far longer to accomplish things these days.

DECISIONS, DECISIONS

Sunny and warm weather has intruded. Yes, I love it but it does have a drawback or two. The sunny weather shows up much that was hidden by our usual daylight. Shock! Horror! How long has that cobweb been festooned there? I see the garden needs some attention. That's not all - a multitude of tasks appear, some of which are critical. Many of them require good weather, as rain would either spoil the job, or a hair-do!

.. AND MORE DECISIONS

Out of the blue I was advised that parking restrictions are to be applied to the area outside my house. As I live on a corner plot, the lines are to go in front and down the side. I've been writing to various entities regarding my concerns about more and more parking restrictions in our area. We're three miles out of town, for heaven's sake. No-one parks here to go shopping. It won't be long before we have to collectively hire transporters to park six or so cars on an area designated for two! This writing lark has taken up more time than I expected and it's annoying to be dealing with so much dross when I planned to knit. Nevertheless, I've managed to complete a little outfit I planned for the Bond machine.

DOCKING - AS IN QUAY

By last weekend we were so fed up with frustrations of modern day living, that we decided to drop everything and check out the dock area of town. Everyone living in a town with a dock will remember (if they're as ancient as me) that the dock area was a place to be avoided unless employed there. Living near such places was the lot of the socially deprived. Well, I've got news for those still under that impression! In Ipswich the docks have come under multi-million pound regeneration. Where the flour mills and depots were, there are now restaurants. The quays are open to pedestrians with parking areas to leave the car and flats command a wonderful view of the boats and River Orwell. It's all horrendously expensive and very few of the old buildings are left.

A couple of houses remain, complete with external Tudor style woodwork. Were people really that small? If the doors are anything to go by, I don't think anyone could have been much taller than 5ft 2 in. Oh, the windows! How anyone could see to work in broad daylight amazes me. Perhaps much was done outside then and how I hope these dwellings are to be preserved. They really give a flavour of The Old Curiosity Shop but I wonder what Little Nell would have thought of the nose to tail traffic creeping past the front doors for most of the day.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT?

We decided to have a meal, but although there were tables and chairs gracing the frontage, it was around 6.30 pm and I'm not a lover of summer breezes when the sun is going down. They can be deceptively sneaky to an unsuspecting older lady who has left her jacket in the car. For that reason we settled for inside but guess what? The deceptively sneaky breeze found its way inside as well! »

“Sunny and warm weather has intruded. Yes, I love it but it does have a drawback or two”

«My gallant spouse draped his jacket round me, but it wasn't long before it became restless and slid this way and that. As my shoulders are much narrower than his and his wallet in an inner pocket unbalanced the weight, it constantly slid to port side while I arranged myself to starboard. I gave up in the end and returned the fractious garment to the man who thinks he's captain of our stone frigate.

The food was a very long time coming and in other circumstances I'd have left. However, we had a first class view of the river and sailing boats. Well it would have been if the young man, dividing his time between two children around three and five years, had taken them for a walk. Instead, they were constantly being herded away from the edge of the quay. My blood pressure rose and fell like waves in a storm as I fretted, fearing each child would fall over the edge. Eventually, I dragged my eyes away and assumed the pose of First Mate, drumming up conversation with my Captain to alleviate my disquieting concerns.

ANCIENT AND MODERN

Now let me tell you a little more about Ipswich waterfront. It's a stimulating environment, with visiting large sailing vessels such as Tall Ships and Royal Navy boats, together with craft offering tours of the beautiful River Orwell. It's just a short ten minutes walk from the town centre with a myriad of things to do and see. That's not all. Head west from Ipswich and you find yourself in the centre of Suffolk's wool towns and villages. Made rich by the 15th century wool trade, much of the area is virtually frozen in time. Kersey, Cavendish and Clare are picture-book pink-washed villages that have made Suffolk famous and Lavenham is widely regarded as England's finest medieval town. It's crammed with timber framed houses built between 1400 and 1500.

I have to admit that though born in Sussex, where I spent my formative years, I've lived here for many years. I even discovered that one of my great, great grandfathers was born here in 1802. I'm also amazed that the environs of Ipswich were heavily involved in the wool trade. Imagine that - and I've been thinking that machine production of yarn and fabric was as recent as the 1980s and a result of local interest in the domestic knitting machine! ■ makes 4 out of work Ns in all.)

- 3 With MY cast on over all selected Ns.
- 4 Complete 11 rows.
- 5 Reform last row to garter stitch fold row.
- 6 Complete 10 more rows.
- 7 Hook first row sts, including bar of out of work N, of MY onto Ns to form hem.

IDEAS

Add a bit of Italian chic with Helios, the embroidery yarn from Alessandra Filati at Uppingham

MAKING UP

- 1 Join underarm and side seams.
- 2 Run a short length of shirring elastic through sleeve wrists to close ribs slightly.

FRONT NECKBAND

- 1 With wrong side of work facing, offer neckline to machine and bring out required number of Ns to WP. (Approximately 20 Ns first front, 24 for back neck and 20 for second front.) Rehang neckline on these Ns and hang weight with shirring elastic. Using carriage, work 1 row to right (yarn should knit off with shirring elastic). 2 K first row by hand. With carriage, K a further 6 rows. Reform last row to stockinet sts then K 6 more rows. Remove with one row sewing cotton and several rows of WY.

MAKING UP STAGE 2

- 1 Turn neckband towards outside of garment and back stitch open sts in place.

BUTTON BAND

- 1 With right side of garment facing, offer one front edge to machine, including end of neckband. (Approximately 38 sts required plus 1 extra at each end.) 2 Bring forward required Ns and hang edge on these Ns, missing first and last N.

- 3 Carriage on right, hand knit these Ns back, bringing forward empty end N and placing yarn under it to form new st on next row.

- 4 Hang weight with shirring elastic. Using carriage, work 1 row to right (yarn should knit off with shirring elastic) and using tail end of yarn, e-wrap empty N.

- 5 Complete 9 more rows.

- 6 Reform last row to form garter stitch fold row.

- 7 Complete 10 rows.

- 8 Hook joining row evenly over Ns to encase edge. K one row (by hand if necessary). Cast off.

- 9 Work second band in similar manner.

MAKING UP STAGE 3

- 1 Sew up band ends.
- 2 Sew on 4 evenly spaced buttons.
- 3 Make 4 button loops to correspond with buttons.

Hood

- 1 With WY cast on 100 sts and work several rows. K 1 row left to right with cast on cord.

- 2 With MY, RC 000, K 4 rows. Turn up narrow hem.

- 3 Work 20 rows. Drop alt sts and latch up as stockinet to form 1x1 rib.

- 4 Transfer every 3rd st to adjacent N. K 1 row. (67 sts) Place marker on centre st.

- 5 Remove on WY. Bring forward 34 sts then replace 34 sts including marked sts and all others outwards to one side.

- 6 Using treble (3 prong) tool (decrease 1 st fully fashioned on marked st side, K 2 rows) 4 times. This is face opening side.

- 7 Work 10 rows straight.

- 8 Crown shaping Transfer 8th and 16th sts to adjacent Ns. Move all sts in to fill empty Ns or remove on WY and replace on reduced number of Ns.

- 9 Rep Instruction 8, but transfer 7th and 14th sts to adjacent Ns, K 2 rows. Continue in this manner until completing transfer every alt st.

- 10 Break yarn with long end and thread through remaining sts. Remove from machine.

- 11 Replace set of ribbed sts rem to 33 Ns. Place heel of face edge st to another N to increase total to 34 sts.

- 12 Work this side of hood as first side, but reverse shaping.

MAKING UP

- 1 Gather rem sts at crown and fasten securely.

- 2 Use tail of yarn to join two outside edges to form back of head seam.

- 3 Run length of shirring elastic along three quarters of top edge of rib omitting front quarter. This will give some neck shaping. It should not be drawn in tight and never run entirely round neck area.

- 4 Run contrast yarn (doubled), ribbon or cord through ladders in coat and round finished edge of hood. ■

LET'S. twist AGAIN

Bill King reminds us that each new season of catwalk shows brings with it a revamp of a tried and tested technique, made over to look more up to date

Many of the autumn and winter collections feature cables of the most outrageous dimensions and the strangest of twists and turns, the sight of which would give your granny palpitations. Alongside these Avant Garde ideas and as if to tone things down a little, many shows had multi colour intarsia cables of a more wearable type.

The intarsia carriage (or built in intarsia setting) is particularly well suited to cables. If each element of the cable (group of needles to be twisted) has its own yarn supply, when the stitches are crossed it's simple to pull some extra yarn through to make the twist a little easier.

SAMPLE 1

Two colour basic twist Simple but effective, the appearance is of two different coloured fabrics linked together by a cable. Work according to the chart, crossing the cables every eight rows. Start off with a separate ball of yarn for each of the two groups of three needles to be cabled. It makes for easier knitting and there will be no ends to sew in.

“ If each element of the cable has its own yarn supply, when the stitches are crossed it's simple to pull some extra yarn through to make the twist a little easier ”

SAMPLE 2

Two colour stag horn cable If you've ever tried to knit this cable in one colour, you'll know how difficult it is to create the six needle gap in the centre that the twist requires. As I mentioned before, the supply of yarn with each twisted element conveniently provides a solution to this problem.

Three colour OXO cable This one looks far more complicated than it is to knit. The usual 'OXO' cable sequence of twists is used and that's two twists into the centre, two twists out from centre plus the extra rows to form the 'O'. You don't really need a chart once you get going, as obviously each element continues in the original colour.

Chicken wire cable Poultry keepers amongst you will recognise the inspiration for this one. Knitted here in just three colours, it would be little extra effort to use more colours for the negative space between the 'wires'. ■

Topical tips

- As ever with cables, make sure you twist in the right direction; erroneous cables can be the source of much aggravation.
- Use a separate ball of yarn for each element of the cable, even though some of the time it doesn't appear to be necessary. When you come to twist, the extra yarn is available.
- Look at hand knit cables for inspiration and plan which ones would work well in multi colours.

Cables

Sample A

We'd all agree with Beryl Jarvis that cables are very much a leveller. No matter whether you've spent thousands of pounds on your equipment or rescued a machine from a rubbish heap, true cables are worked the same way

Often knitters will say, "I only have an old Knitmaster" or "my machine is only a basic one and will not do fancy stitches". I always try to help knitters in my classes to understand their machine and they're often surprised at its capabilities. Cabling is hand tooling and therefore time consuming, but the three dimensional effect can be very satisfying. Cables are worked with any combination of single (one-prong), double (two-prong) or treble (three-prong) transfer tools. One set of stitches is removed from the original needles and swapped with another set of stitches from adjacent needles. Before we start, it may be helpful to go back to almost the beginning of this series and refresh our memories about shaping with transfer tools.

- a) Use the transfer tool as an extension to the needle and keep it in a straight line.
- b) Pull the needle(s) out until the stitch drops behind the latch.
- c) Push the needle forwards so that the stitch slides off the needle on to the transfer tool.
- d) Put the eye of the transfer tool on to the needle that will hold the replaced stitch, still keeping it in a straight line.
- e) Pull the needle out until the stitch slides on to the needle and remember you can use two hands! The hand not holding the tool can hold the fabric.
- f) Don't get into a bad habit of turning the tool upwards and flicking the stitch over.

Students who have acquired this bad habit often find cables difficult whilst those who have learnt to use them as I suggest have no such problem. Turning the tool upwards and flicking the stitches over works when decreasing, but when cabling the stitches are often stretched to their limits and they will be flicked off and drop. If stitches are dropped whilst cabling, it can be difficult to pick them up. It's much less difficult to move the stitches back to their original position, thus taking the strain off them. Picking up the dropped stitches and knitting them back up if they've run down is much easier and the cable can be worked again.

MOVING STITCHES

Stitches can be moved in two ways.

Method 1 (ord) The right hand stitches are moved first (they will be on top when viewed from the knit side) and then the left hand stitches are moved behind them.

Method 2 (opp) The left hand stitches are moved first (they will be on top when viewed from the knit side) and then the right hand stitches are moved behind them.

I've not got a copy but early in my teaching career I did have access to a machine-knitting book, which I think was Australian and probably about 30 years old. There was an excellent chapter on knitting cables and it referred to Method 1 as an ordinary (ord) cable and Method 2 as an opposite (opp) cable. Since then, I've used this terminology (ord and opp) plus the examples given in the book for my students to try the many variations of cables.

If you're right-handed and with two transfer tools on the hooks of the two groups of needles, you may be able to pull the needles out and push them back transferring the stitches to the tools. You move the right hand set on to the left hand group of needles (ord cable) whilst holding the tool and the left hand set in the left hand. Then, using both hands, transfer the second set on to the empty right hand group of needles. Left-handed knitters should reverse these directions. However, if you're not so capable with the tools or you're moving the stitches the other way (opp cable) it may be easier to use this two-handed method.

Sample C

First, using two hands, remove the stitches on the needles where the first set will be replaced. The tool holding the stitches can then be moved to the side away from the other group and the eyes of the tool hung on the hooks of needles not involved in the cable. This leaves both hands free to move the second set of stitches on to the empty needles. The empty needles are then waiting for the first group. Why not practice both ways? After moving the stitches, the needles will often appear bent as they are pulled by the stitches. So when the stitches have been transferred and before knitting, it's always advisable to push the needles out to holding position before knitting the next row, then the carriage has only to knit them back. I often refer to this as 'having sympathy with your machine' by doing half of this hard task for it.

When we hand knit, it's normal to purl the stitches on either side of a knitted cable to highlight the twist. As the course we're following is just covering single bed work, the cables will be within the knit side of the fabric. Needles can be left in non-working position on either side of the cable stitches, creating ladders. These ladders can be latched up the opposite way later, thus making a purl stitch on each side. They can also be left and although they may look a bit open when first removed from the machine, once the fabric has relaxed the ladder will close and highlight the cable in a similar way to a purl stitch. Leaving needles in non-working position will also make it easier to work the cables and stretch the stitches over the other group of needles.

SINGLE CABLE

Let's now look at some examples of cable patterns. The first is worked over six needles, with one needle either side in non-working position, using two treble transfer tools. * Knit eight rows, ord cable*; repeat from * to * (see Sample A).

CABLE PANEL

This can be taken into a wider panel by having four groups of six needles with a needle in non working position each side and between each group, work cable on alternate groups (see Sample B).

BUTTERFLY CABLE

This is worked over eight needles, with one needle on either side in non-working position and uses one treble and one single transfer tool. * Knit six rows. Moving the single stitch from the centre first, ord cable over the four left hand stitches and opp cable over four right hand stitches*; repeat from * to * (see Sample C). Sample D is worked by moving the single stitch from the outside first.

LATTICE CABLE

This time, there are no needles in non working position and we use two double transfer tools. We work the cables over an area of sixteen needles counting from left to right. * Needles 1 and 2 ord cable with 3 and 4; needles 5 and 6 ord cable with 7 and 8; needles 9 and 10 ord cable with 11 and 12; needles 13 and 14 ord cable with needles 15 and 16. Knit 4 rows. Needles 3 and 4 opp cable with 5 and 6; needles 7 and 8 opp cable with needles 9 and 10; needles 11 and 12 opp cable with needles 13 and 14. Knit 4 rows *. Repeat from * to * over cable area (see Sample E).

Finally, unless there are a lot of cables, the tension of the garment will not be affected. If you're knitting an all-over cable fabric, the tension swatch will need knitting and measuring in the same fabric. Any needles left in non working position must be counted as the garment is shaped.

As I said at the beginning of the article, cables are time consuming and before starting a cable pattern, which may suggest cabling say every six rows, why not only cable every ten rows? This

Classwise revisited

Beryl Jarvis ran a very successful course in Leicester for more than ten years and her Classwise series of articles is based on life in her classroom and her teaching. The series started in To & Fro, then continued in Modern Machine Knitting and ended some long time ago here in Machine Knitting Monthly. So many knitters are returning to machine knitting and asking for our help that we've decided to publish the articles again. This will not only give beginners a chance to follow through the course, but also allow those returning to machine knitting to make a fresh start. Beryl's Info Sheets are still available to readers and if you'd like a list of the full set, including prices, please send Beryl a self-addressed and stamped envelope to: Beryl Jarvis, 90 Asfordby Road, Melton Mowbray, Leicestershire LE13 0HR. would take a lot less time and probably look just as good. Will any one else appreciate the extra time taken over the extra cables? Probably not, but a little bit of cabling can make all the difference to a plain garment. ■

Passap is back

Alice Wilmhurst needs no introduction to machine knitters and we're delighted that she's joining us as a regular contributor

My very dearest Passap and Pfaff readers

I am back again. I curled out of my stupor at the Machine Knitting LIVE! Show at Chepstow Leisure Centre in June 2010. Actually I had the most fantastic day, because so many people recognised me and welcomed me back into the knitting world. I didn't realise how much I missed it all until I was in the midst of all the yarn and machines and people. I chatted to Anne, we brought each other up-to-date and then she invited me to have a regular slot in Machine Knitting Monthly for the Passap Duo 80 and the E6000. I didn't take long to think about it, but then had misgivings. In fact, I woke up at 3.00 am and couldn't get back to sleep.

When Bert died I was totally devastated. It is something many of you will understand, but of course we always think we are the only ones going through our trauma. I gave up everything to do with machine knitting and took several courses. The Reiki Holistic Therapy Course took four years and I also took a course for teaching adults with learning difficulties. I started playing the organ and did two six-hour organ marathons in aid of Christian Aid. I continued volunteering at the Cat's Protection Shop in Lydney and started to hand knit and crochet again. In 2009 I hand knitted 70 balaclavas for Christmas Shoe Box. I left my machines covered but neglected. However, I did machine knit ten long pew cushion covers for Ellwood Chapel. I also started painting and sold one painting in 2009.

One of the many reasons I was reluctant to come back was my prickly conscience. Joan Shaw took over my Knitting Machine

Journal and my lovely Passap Knitting Machine Journal. I gave her all the names of my many readers on the understanding that she would contact you and give you those copies that you had paid me for. So my prickly conscience was clear on that point. I had to do something for you all, because I wasn't giving you value for money. That was fine, it worked out and left me with the E6000, which I was going to continue but, as you know only too well - I didn't.

Every time I started on the E6000 pages Bert jumped into my office and, sobbing, I ran into the kitchen and made yet another cup of tea and went upstairs and played my organ. Then wonders of wonders, Anne sent me a ticket and invited me to her show - so how could I not go to Chepstow? Anne offered a solution to my dilemma give a subsidised subscription to Machine Knitting Monthly to all those E6000 readers who had paid me up to Number 42 and with whom I hadn't honoured my obligation.

“With her vast wealth of knowledge and experience, Alice will bring help and encouragement to all Passap and Pfaff knitters”

So, I will give Anne your names and she will take it from there. I will give her the Pusher Aligning Tools which you need if you have a Passap or Pfaff. The PAT is for the Duo and the E6000. I will also let her have all my Passap E6000 books that I have printed, plus all the back issues that I have available. Her printing techniques are a lot more up-to-date than mine, so the printing quality will be a lot better. How does that strike you? I hope you're pleased and boy, am I glad to be back. Alice

OLD MACHINES

We are fast approaching the time when old knitting machines are going to find their way to the tip. Charity shops dare not accept them because they have sharp needles or because they are electronic and they may not sell anything electric for fear of an insurance claim. So what are we going to do with all these unwanted and uncared for machines? The answer will unfortunately be 'the tip'. This short article was motivated by a message on a machine knitting list. I responded immediately and then thought, 'Well, some of my readers might find this useful'. So here it is and yes, it is of course intended for the UK market.

Old sewing machines In the past (and don't forget I am going back a long way) I have contacted Steele's Knitting Machines. They are at Shoreham-by-Sea in West Sussex. They have always advertised at the back of MKM and they used to collect very old sewing machines, but the bits and bobs of the later ones may be useful. They used to have a second-hand section, but check this out by calling 01273-463039.

Old knitting machines It's probably still worth contacting The Guild of Machine Knitters. If they are not interested and you simply cannot sell or give the machines away, then remove the needles. These are very saleable but do make certain that you label the box, stating the machine from which they came. The bits and bobs that

Welcome back

For a great number of years Alice and I have kept in touch, especially since her beloved Bert passed away. I've sent her the magazine, so she could keep in touch with machine knitting, even though she couldn't be a part of it for personal reasons. The Chepstow Show was planned and I sent her a couple of tickets, in the hope that she may come along with a friend. She joined me on the MKM stand and came to life as a great number of knitters recognised her and stopped to chat. It soon became obvious that her heart was still in machine knitting.

None of us is getting any younger and, now in her seventies, she obviously can't publish her own magazine any more. However, it's perfectly possible for her to have her own corner in MKM. It will greatly enhance the magazine to have such an eminent contributor and she'll be able to offer lots of help and advice to all Passap and Pfaff knitters. With her assistance, we'll also be able to publish many of the late Andy Levick designs for Passap machines.

Our Graphic Designer Nick McKay lives not far from the old Severn Crossing and Alice's home is in Lydney. I go to Bristol once a month just before each issue goes to the printer and my trips will now include an extra journey to see Alice. Hopefully she'll soon pick up from where she left off and get back into the swing of things, as her confidence grows. As you'll read in her letter, we're welcoming many of her old readers to MKM and I know your contributions will be very welcome. Please get in touch with her direct and her e-mail address is at the end of her letter. Alternatively, write to her at the magazine. I know that many of her friends and past readers will join me in welcoming her to MKM and I look forward to a happy and rewarding future for both of us. Anne go with the machine are also well worth keeping. These are the items people often lose when moving and so on.

Needles Before putting them away do oil them as follows. Put them in a tin. Pour a little oil over them. Shake them up. Remove from the tin and store them.

Needle retaining bar Save the sponge bars from all old machines if they are still in good condition. Again, mark them so that you know which machine they came from. Keep them out of direct sunlight to preserve the sponge as much as possible.

Now here's a snippet for everyone with a Passap Duo 80.

I want to knit in pattern ...
... but I haven't got a Deco

This stitch turned out to be absolutely delightful. I experimented with several thicknesses of yarn and found one end of 2/30s at stitch size 3/3 was easy to work with, but looked a little thin. Two ends of 2/30s acrylic at stitch size 3•• / 3•• was what I settled for.

At first knitting this may seem like a chore. There's so much chopping and changing, but if you get into a rhythm N/ AX Knit 4 rows; change both back and front levers and thumb on the arrow, then change colour. Knit 2 rows and repeat the whole process – i.e. change levers, thumb on arrow. Change colour, knit 4 rows and so on. It is surprisingly quick, very pretty and here's the pattern. ■

Lace shawl

PATTERN RATING

★ Easy to knit.

MACHINES

Original shawl was made on a Brother 588 machine, but any machine and suitable lacy pattern can be used.

MATERIALS

Approximately 150 g of any suitable 2/30s Acrylic or similar thickness.

MEASUREMENTS

As wide and long as you wish.

TENSION

Don't bother with a tension swatch, use Tension Dial setting 10.

NOTES

If you don't want to work the fringes this way, simply cast on by hand, K 600 rows in pattern then cast off. Knot fringes at each end in the usual way.

FRINGES

You'll need a hollow rod and some hardboard. First make the fringes by taking a piece of hardboard 15 cm, 6 in long and wide enough to cut 6 or 8 'V' notches in the top and bottom. Wind yarn six times round each V. Cut across, fold in half, put two fingers through the loop and pull enough yarn through to make a loop large enough to slip onto the rod. You'll need about 74.

TO KNIT

Put on comb and using Tension 10, work an automatic cast on over 140 sts. Before working the 'all knit' row, press buttons 1, 3, 5 and 7. Select Ns and push them out to HP. Now place rod over needles, slip on fringe and push back to gate pegs. Continue until all fringes are on Ns then knit across. Release buttons and reset buttons 1-5, holding cam levers to III. Set and K 3 rows. Set cam levers to I and K 2 rows. Rep for 600 rows. Release buttons 1 to 5. Press buttons 1, 3, 5 and 7 then set Ns and put on fringe as before. Knit across and cast off, keeping cast off sts outside gate pegs. Steam press flat to 'kill' the acrylic and trim fringe. ■

Mock rib instructions

Used for welts, cuffs, neckbands and other edges on single bed machines without a ribber.

Push the number of main bed needles given in pattern to working position. Push every alternate needle back to non-working position for a 1x1 rib or every third needle back to non-working position for a 2x1 rib. It may be necessary to reduce this number by one needle at one or both edges to keep the rib even. (Increase the stitches after the mock rib has been worked to give the same number as the pattern.)

Using main tension and waste yarn, cast on and knit a few rows ending with carriage at left. Set row counter at 000. Using at least two full sizes tighter than main tension, knit the number of rows given in pattern for rib. Using three full sizes looser than this tension, knit one row. (This loose row gives a neat fold line.) Return to two full sizes tighter than main tension and knit the same number of rows as before. Push empty needles from non-working to working position and make a hem by placing loops of first row worked in main yarn evenly along the row. Make sure that each empty needle holds a loop to prevent a row of holes across the work. Unravel waste yarn when work has been removed from machine. After garment has been blocked to size, insert a metal welt bar or thin, clean piece of wood through the hem and pull firmly downwards to draw the stitches of mock rib closer together. Set the stitches by steaming lightly on the wrong side, if pressing instructions permit.

Quick cast-on

This method can be used not only for speed but also when the edges are either hidden or to be gathered by pulling up yarn end. With carriage at right, push alt Ns to WP. Use tension dial setting and either MY or WY as given in pattern. K 1 row. Carefully hook on the cast-on comb. Push remaining alt Ns to WP and K 1 row. The carriage is back at right. Cont as given in pattern instructions. When knitting is removed from machine, pull yarn end at cast-on edge to gather up sts or, for a straight edge, pull yarn end to remove any slack and fasten off. Your manual will describe this method of casting on although it may be called by a different name and may not use a cast-on comb. ■
